MediaSilo is the only complete online solution that makes managing your post-production project a breeze. Manage video assets online with anytime, anywhere access to your clips; create accounts for your team and clients to receive feedback and approval; even launch online content on any website with just the click of a button. MediaSilo is video content management made easy.

Upload Files

Ingest files either directly through the web browser or using our desktop uploader. Upload any file size and MediaSilo will create web-ready versions automatically for easy preview.

Share with Clients

Receive timeline-specific annotations and request approval – all in one place. Create accounts for each user (there is no user-limit, ever) and receive feedback that you can export and take back to your edit station.

Broadcast Online

Once approved, move files into lineups and channels for immediate online broadcast. Choose your custom player and embed video on your website in minutes.

Timeline Specific Annotations

Add annotations anywhere on the timeline, then export all feedback and import it into After Effects, FinalCut Pro or your favorite editing software.

Access your files anytime, anywhere

MediaSilo makes accessing your video library through a web browser easy. Preview files without the need to download them first or upload files from the road.
